Sorted Scoundrels is a “working class” punk band based out of Austin TX formed in late 2015. Heavily influenced by Rock ‘n Roll, Punk, Oi! and Hardcore they combine these sounds to put out an energetic yet melodic combination of all of the above. The band released their first demo simply named “Sorted Scoundrels” in 2016 and has played a variety of shows across Texas.

In 2019 they released their first full length Album “Cause and Solution” which made Tim Stegall of the Austin Chronicle’s list of the “Top 10 Local Albums for 2019”. The band’s record release party was thrown during a show with legendary punk icons The Vibrators.

The band was then asked to write and record a song “(FTP)” for the Music for the Women’s March compilation CD that was used to help raise funds for the March on the Texas Capitol. Shortly after in 2020 they released the single “Bats and Rats” to preview an upcoming album they are currently writing and recording to be released later this year.

In addition to writing and recording new music, the band is focusing on playing shows in new cities and breaking into a wider area than they normally cover.
